Part III Content of Privacy Policy

I. How We Collect and Use Your Personal Information

(I) How we collect personal information

1. Types of personal information we collect

(1) Personal information

The personal information or sensitive personal information in this Privacy Policy are subject to the Information Security Technology—Personal Information Security Specification. We describe the types of information we collect and why we collect and use your personal information in this section (I) and section (II) hereunder.

Personal information refers to all kinds of information recorded electronically or in other ways that can identify a specific natural person or reflect the activities of a specific natural person either alone or in combination with other information. Personal information includes personal biometric information (fingerprints, facial recognition features, voice recognition features, video recognition features, electronic signature features, etc.), personal identity information (ID card, Mainland Travel Permit for Hong Kong and Macao Residents, Mainland Travel Permit for Taiwan Residents, military officer certificate, passport, driver's license, work permit, social security card, residence permit, degree information, household register, etc.), credit and financial information (including your credit and financial related information inquired and collected through the Credit Reference Center of the People's Bank of China and its branches and sub-branches and other information service agencies based on your authorization), etc.

(2) Sensitive personal information

Sensitive personal information refers to the personal information that, once leaked, illegally provided or abused, may threaten personal and property safety and/or easily cause personal reputational damage, physical and mental health damage, or discrimination.

Sensitive personal information includes personal information such as ID card number, personal biometric information, bank account number, property information, location data, transaction data, information of children 14 years of age or under, etc.

2. How we collect personal information

We collect your personal information in the following three ways:

(1) Information we automatically collect

When you use the official website of ICLASS2024, we automatically collect your login information, device information, and browsing information out of the needs of operation, management, security, technology improvement, product and/or service optimization, etc. Such information includes but is not limited to: IP address used to access the official website, date and time of requests, hardware and software information (such as which apps or software you've downloaded, installed or used), device information (such as device MAC address), device events, unique identifiers, crash reports, cookies, and webpages that you have browsed while using the official website of ICLASS2024.

(2) Information you provide to us voluntarily

When you use the official website of ICLASS2024, you voluntarily provide us with some personal information in order to use relevant functions and/or services, and we collect such information. Specifically:

When you search on the official website of ICLASS2024, we collect the words you enter and other information so that you can quickly find the goods and/or services you need.

When you use the official website of ICLASS2024, we collect information that you voluntarily input or upload like your nickname, avatar, gender, constellation, etc., to optimize your search and provide personalized services to you.

When you make an online reservation or conduct a transaction on the official website of ICLASS2024, we collect your personal identity information (ID card, Mainland travel permit for Hong Kong and Macao residents, Mainland travel permit for Taiwan residents, military officer certificate, passport, driver's license, work permit, social security card, residence permit, education and degree information, household register, etc.) and your personal biometric information (fingerprints, facial recognition features, voice recognition features, video recognition features, electronic signature features, etc.) that you voluntarily provide, to help you complete the reservation or transaction successfully.

When you report for online repair, make a complaint or give feedback on the official website of ICLASS2024, in order to solve your problem quickly and timely, we collect the time of your request, your location, your communication records with us, and other relevant information.

(3) Information provided by an authorized third party

When you use the official website of ICLASS2024, we collect information provided by a third party under your authorization in order to use the relevant functions and/or services of the our website. Specifically:

If you sign up on the official website of ICLASS2024 with a third-party account like WeChat account, we collect your account information like your avatar, nickname, etc.

If you would like to make payment and enjoy relevant discounts on the official website of ICLASS2024, we collect your credit and financial information provided to use by the Credit Reference Center of the People's Bank of China and its branches and sub-branches and other information service agencies under your authorization.

With regard to the foregoing three types of information, i.e. 1) your login information, device information or browsing information that we automatically collect during your use of our products and/or services, 2) information you provide to us voluntarily, and 3) information provided by an authorized third party, if you cannot be identified separately through each category, each category of information does not belong to the scope of your personal information; in this case, this Privacy Policy does not apply and we have the right to use such information for any purpose. If you can be identified when the above three categories of information are used separately or in combination, such information is deemed as your personal information during their separate or combined use, and are processed and protected in accordance with this Privacy Policy.

(II) How we use your personal information

1. Purpose of information use

We use the personal information we collect within the legal scope based on service needs for the following purposes (including but not limited to): providing services to you; meeting your personalized needs; developing products and optimizing services (for example, when our system fails, we record and analyze the information generated during system failure to optimize our services); ensuring security; recommending information you may be interested to you; evaluating and improving the effect of our promotional activities; carrying out software management like software certification, upgrade, etc.; inviting you to participate in surveys about our services.

When we want to use your personal information for a purpose not covered in this Policy or use information collected for one purpose for other purposes, we will notify you in time and ask for your permission in advance.

2. How the information is used

We use your personal information in the following ways (including but not limited to):

(1) Display

When you use the official website of ICLASS2024, in order for you to better use our products and/or services, we may display your personal information like your gender, age, resume, etc.

Please note that when we display your personal information, we will desensitize your information according to your needs to protect your information.

(2) User portrait

When you use the official website of ICLASS2024, in order for you to better use our products and/or services, we may analyze your personal information to form a user portrait, which is used to optimize your search or recommend products and/or services you may be interested to you.

(3) Aggregation and merge

When you use the official website of ICLASS2024, in order for you to better use our products and/or services, we may aggregate and merge your personal information we have collected.

Please note that when aggregating and merging personal information, we use technical means to de-identify personal information, and form information, reports, etc. that do not contain personal identifiable content after analysis, statistics, and processing (hereinafter referred to as "anonymous aggregated data"). You understand and agree that in this case, we have the right, without disclosing your personal information, to commercially use the anonymous aggregated data. For example, we may use the anonymous aggregated data for purposes like research and development, industry analysis, product improvement, and compliance with laws, or share them with our third-party partners (third-party service providers, contractors, agents, advertising partners, app developers, etc.) and authorize such partners to use and disclose the anonymous aggregated data.

In addition, in order to realize the core functions of our products and/or services or provide the services you need, the third-party SDK we embed may collect your personal information to ensure the normal use of functions, including but not limited to the following:

- A. Login with third-party account: If you sign in with a third-party account, the third-party service provider may collect your device information and network-related information;
- B. Location service: In order to provide you with location service, the third-party location service provider may collect your device information and location information;
- C. Payment service: In order to provide you with payment service, the third-party payment service provider may collect your device information and network-related information;
- D. Data statistics function: We may use a third-party SDK to accurately record your app activities, device information, and network-related information;
- E. Push service: In order to provide you with timely push notifications, we may cooperate with third-party push service providers and share with them your device information like operating system, manufacturer, brand and identification number, app list, network information, and location information. For details, please check the privacy policy of the third-party push service provider.

(III) Exceptions to obtaining consent for the collection and use of personal information

According to relevant laws and regulations, we may collect and use your personal information without your consent under the following circumstances:

- (1) The information is directly related to national security and national defense security;
- (2) The information is directly related to public security, public health, or significant public interests;
- (3) The information is directly related to criminal investigation, prosecution, trial and execution of judgments;
- (4) The collection and use are for the purpose of protecting the life, property or other significant legitimate rights and interests of you or others, but it is difficult to obtain your consent;
- (5) The collected personal information has been made publicly available by yourself;
- (6) The information is collected from legally public channels, such as legitimate news reports, information disclosure of government departments, etc.;
- (7) The collection and use are necessary for signing and performing a contract requested by you;
- (8) The collection and use are necessary for maintaining the secure and stable operation of the services provided, such as discovering and troubleshooting product or service failures;
- (9) Other circumstances stipulated by laws and regulations.

II. How We use Cookies and Similar Technologies

(I) Use of cookies

In order to meet your personalized needs and provide you with easier login and access experience, we store one or more small data files called cookies on your computer or mobile device. Cookies usually contain identifiers, site names and some numbers and characters. We send you cookies to simplify your login process, store information such as your searches of products and services, and manage your preferences. We will not use cookies for purposes not covered in this Policy. You can manage and/or delete cookies according to your preferences. You can clear all the cookies saved in the software, but if you do this, you may need to change user settings upon each visit, all the corresponding information recorded before will be deleted, and there may be certain impact on the security of the service.

(II) Use of beacons

In addition to cookies, we also use other similar technologies such as beacons. Our webpages often contain electronic images (called "single-pixel" gifs or "web beacons"). The use of beacons can help access certain cookies, thereby identifying registered users and providing them with personalized services.

III. How We Share, Transfer and Disclose Your Personal Information

(I) Sharing

1. We strictly restrict the sharing of information in accordance with laws and regulations, and will not actively share your personal information with companies, organizations or individuals outside of us, except in the following cases:

- (1) We may share your personal information with other cooperative organizations with your explicit consent;
- (2) We may report or share your personal information according to laws and regulations or mandatory requirements of government departments, judicial agencies, industry associations, etc.;
- (3) To the extent permitted by laws and regulations, the share of the information is necessary to protect the interests, property or safety of us, our affiliates or partners, you or other users, and the public;
- (4) The share of the information is necessary for realizing the core functions of our products and/or services or providing the services you need;
- (5) We may share your personal information to handle your disputes with others under your request;
- (6) We may share your personal information in accordance with the relevant agreements signed with you (including electronic agreements signed online and applicable Terms of Service) or other legal documents;
- (7) We may share your personal information based on academic research;
- (8) We may share your personal information based on social and public interests that comply with laws and regulations.

2. We may share your personal information with our affiliates. However, we only share necessary personal information that is bound by the purposes stated in this Privacy Policy. If our affiliates want to change the purpose of personal information use, they will ask for your authorization again.

3. You agree that we may provide your personal information to third-party partners to process it for us, based on this Privacy Policy and any other appropriate confidentiality and security measures, to realize the following purposes: providing services to you; achieving the purposes described in the above section "I. How We Collect and Use Your Personal Information"; fulfilling our obligations and exercising our rights in the Terms of Service and this Privacy Policy; understanding, maintaining and improving our services. However, we only share your personal information necessary to provide services out of legal, legitimate, necessary, specific, and clear purposes. Our partners have no right to use the shared personal information for any other purpose. We may also share your personal information with third parties that support our functions, such as partners that provide infrastructure technical services, maintenance and repair, data processing, and other services for our products and services. Our purpose of information sharing is to realize the core functions of or to improve and optimize our products and/or services.

4. We sign strict confidentiality agreements with companies, organizations and individuals with which we share personal information, requiring them to process your personal information in accordance with our instructions, this Privacy Policy and any other relevant confidentiality and security measures.

(II) Transfer

We will not transfer your personal information to any company, organization or individual, except in the following cases:

1. The transfer has obtained your prior express consent or authorization;
2. The transfer is made in accordance with applicable laws and regulations, requirements of legal procedures, or mandatory administrative or judicial requirements;
3. The transfer complies with the relevant agreements signed with you (including electronic agreements signed online and the applicable Terms of Service) or other legal documents;
4. When we are involved in a merger, acquisition or bankruptcy liquidation, if it involves the transfer of personal information, we will require the new company or organization that holds your personal information to continue to be bound by this Privacy Policy; otherwise we will require the company or organization to ask for your authorization and permission once again.

(III) Disclosure

We only publicly disclose your personal information in the following cases:

1. The disclosure has obtained your explicit consent;
2. Disclosure based on law: We may disclose your personal information in accordance with mandatory requirements of laws, legal procedures, lawsuits or government authorities;
3. The disclosure is for reasonable and necessary purposes such as implementing the Terms of Service or this Privacy Policy, safeguarding national security or social public interests, protecting the personal and property safety or other legitimate rights and interests of our customers, us or our affiliates, other users or employees; however, this does not include selling, renting, sharing or otherwise disclosing personal information for profit in violation of the commitments made in this Privacy Policy.

Under the premise of complying with laws and regulations, when we receive an aforementioned request for disclosure of personal information made in accordance with laws and regulations or mandatory administrative or judicial requirements, we will require the relevant department to issue corresponding legal documents like subpoena or letter of investigation assistance, and will carefully review the request to ensure that it has a legal basis. In addition, the information we disclose is limited to data that law enforcement agencies have a legal right to obtain for specific investigative purposes.

According to the law, if personal information has been de-identified and it can be ensured that the data recipient cannot restore and re-identify the data subject of personal information, sharing and transferring such information is not an act of sharing, transferring and disclosing personal information. Storage and processing of such information do not need to inform you or obtain your consent.

IV. How We Store and Protect Your Personal Information

(I) Information storage and cross-border transmission

All your information and materials that we collect are stored within the territory of PRC. If cross-border transmission is required, we will separately obtain your authorization and consent.

We only retain your personal information during your use of our services and within the shortest period required by laws and regulations. Personal information collected under the browsing-only function, such as browsing records and IP address, is stored for less than a month. Beyond that time limit, we immediately delete or anonymize the personal information.

Deletion of personal information refers to the act of removing personal information from systems involved in realizing daily business functions, so that the information is in a state that cannot be retrieved or accessed.

(II) Information protection

In order to ensure the security of your information, we take various reasonable security measures, physical, electronic or management, to protect your information and prevent its leakage, damage or loss. Such measures include, without limitation, SSL, storage encryption, and data center access control.

1. Data encryption: We store your username, mobile phone number, registered email address, QQ number, and WeChat ID in an encrypted manner to ensure that they cannot be obtained maliciously.
2. Identity verification: We verify the legitimacy of user identity through the account password or the verification code sent to the mobile phone number bound to the account, to prevent unauthorized access.
3. Access control: We strictly manage employees or outsourced personnel who may have access to your information, such as adopting different permission control for different positions, signing confidentiality agreements with them, monitoring their operations, etc. Users of the official website of ICLASS2024 can query and manage user information and resources only after identity authentication, and cannot manage user resources without identity authentication.
4. Security audit: We sometimes access risk control platforms or certification platforms to monitor some scenarios or behaviors. For example, we may monitor abnormal behaviors such as abnormal login or registration through traffic analysis. We put in place security measures and provide reasonable security guarantee based on existing technologies, to protect your information and prevent its leakage, damage or loss.

5. Account protection: Your account is equipped with the security protection function. Please keep your account and password properly. We take security measures to ensure that your information is not lost, abused or altered, such as backing up your username and password on other servers or encrypting them. Despite the foregoing security measures, please understand that due to technical limitations and various malicious means that may exist, even if we do our best to strengthen security measures, there are no "perfect security measures" on the information network. You should be responsible for any legal consequences caused by the leakage of your account and password due to your own reasons. When you conduct transactions on the official website of ICLASS2024, if you need to disclose your personal information (such as contacts, contact information, etc.) to the counterparty or potential counterparty, please properly protect your personal information. You should only provide your personal information to others when there is a necessity to do so. If you find that your personal information has been leaked or may be leaked, which may endanger the security of your account or cause you other losses, please be sure to contact us as soon as possible through the contact information specified in this Policy, so that we can take corresponding measures to maintain the security of your account and prevent the occurrence or escalation of losses.

6. The Internet environment is not 100% secure. We try our best to ensure or guarantee the security of any information you send us. However, if an unfortunate security incident occurs, we will promptly inform you in accordance with the requirements of laws and regulations, including the basic situation and possible impact of the security incident, measures we have taken or will take, suggested measures that you can take to prevent and mitigate risks, remedies for you, etc. We will promptly inform you of the relevant circumstances of the incident by email, mail, phone call, push notification, etc. When it is difficult to inform subjects involved in the incident one by one, we will issue an announcement in a reasonable and effective manner. At the same time, we will actively report the handling of the security incident in accordance with the requirements of the regulatory authorities.

V. How You Can Access and Manage Your Personal Information

You may exercise the following rights with respect to your personal information in accordance with relevant laws and regulations:

(I) Accessing your personal information

You have the right to access your personal information, except for circumstances provided by laws and regulations. If you wish to access or edit your profile or other personal information in your account, you can perform such operations by visiting our PC site, app or mini program.

If you are unable to access your personal data through the above methods, you can contact our customer service personnel at any time through our customer service number or our WeChat official account. We will respond to your request within the shortest time possible.

(II) Updating or correcting your personal information

When you need to update your personal information or correct errors in your personal information, you may perform the operation by yourself on our PC site, app or mini program, or contact our customer service personnel to do this for you. We will reply to your request within the shortest time possible.

(III) Exceptions to obtaining prior authorization and consent for sharing, transferring, and disclosing personal information

According to the law, we do not need to obtain your prior authorization and consent for sharing, transferring and disclosing your personal information under the following circumstances:

1. The share, transfer or disclosure of the information is directly related to national security and national defense security;
2. The share, transfer or disclosure of the information is directly related to public security, public health, or significant public interests;

3. The share, transfer or disclosure of the information is directly related to criminal investigation, prosecution, trial and execution of judgments;
4. The share, transfer or disclosure of the information is for the purpose of safeguarding the life, property and other significant legitimate rights and interests of the personal information subject or other individuals, but it is difficult to obtain the consent of the subject;
5. The personal information subject has made the personal information publicly available;
6. The personal information is collected from legally public channels, such as legitimate news reports, information disclosure of government departments, etc.

(IV) Canceling your account

1. If you decide not to use our services any more, you can apply to cancel your account. You can contact us via email (guojiaozhongxin1@163.com) and follow the steps we request. 2. Please note that if you apply to cancel your account:
 - (1) We may retain some of your personal information to meet our legitimate business interests, such as detecting and preventing frauds and improving security. For example, if we deactivate an account of ICLASS2024 due to fraud or security reasons, we may retain certain information of that account to prevent that user from creating a new account in the future.
 - (2) In order to comply with our legal obligations, we may retain and use your personal information after it is anonymized. For example, we may retain some of your information for tax, legal reporting and auditing obligations.
 - (3) Even if you have cancelled your account of ICLASS2024, the information you share with others can still be publicly displayed on the website. However, your attribution to such information will be removed. In addition, we may retain certain copies of your information (such as login records) in our database, but your personal information will be de-identified.
 - (4) After you cancel your account, we will stop providing you with products/services and delete your personal information at your request, unless otherwise stipulated by laws and regulations. If you have any questions about canceling your account, you can contact us via email (guojiaozhongxin1@163.com). Our dedicated personnel will give you a reply in time. After canceling the official account of ICLASS2024, all information in your account will be cleared, and we will no longer collect, use or share personal information related to the account. However, we will retain the information previously collected for a period of time in compliance with regulatory requirements. During that period, the competent authorities still have the right to inquire the information according to the law.

(V) Responding to your request

1. To ensure security, you may need to submit a written request or otherwise prove your identity when exercising the above rights. We may ask you to verify your identity before processing your request. We will respond to your request as soon as possible. If you are not satisfied, you can call our customer service number and contact our customer service personnel at any time.
2. For your reasonable requests, we do not charge fees in principle, but for repeated requests that exceed reasonable limits, we may charge a certain cost depending on the situation. We may reject requests that are unreasonably repetitive, require excessive technical means, pose risks to the legitimate rights and interests of others, or are very impractical.

In accordance with the requirements of laws and regulations, we cannot respond to your requests under the following circumstances:

- (1) The request is directly related to national security or national defense security;
- (2) The request is directly related to public security, public health, or significant public interests;
- (3) The request is directly related to criminal investigation, prosecution, trial and execution of judgments;
- (4) There is sufficient evidence that you have subjective malice or abuse of rights;
- (5) Responding to your request will cause serious damage to the legitimate rights and interests of you or other individuals or organizations;
- (6) The request involves commercial secrets.

VI. Protection of the Personal Information of Minors

1. The official website of ICLASS2024 is mainly for adults (in principle, people aged 18 and above; people aged 16-18 are also considered adults if labor income is their main source of livelihood). If you are a minor, you should read this Privacy Policy accompanied by your legal guardian before using our products and/or services, and can start using our services and provide your information to us only under the consent of your guardian. We protect the personal information of minors in strict accordance with relevant national laws and regulations.
2. If your guardian does not agree with you to use our services or provide information to us in accordance with this Privacy Policy, please stop using our services immediately and notify us in time.
3. For the personal information of minors collected with the consent of parents or legal guardians, we only use or publicly disclose such information to the extent permitted by law, with the explicit consent of parents or guardians or when it is necessary to protect minors.
4. If you are the guardian of a minor, should you have any questions about the minor under your guardianship using our services or the information provided to us, please contact us in time. We protect the confidentiality and security of the information of minors in accordance with relevant national laws and regulations and the provisions of this Policy. If it is discovered that we have collected personal information of minors without the prior consent of a verifiable parent or legal guardian, we will delete the relevant data as soon as possible.
5. For the personal information of children under the age of 14 that may be involved, we further take the following measures:
 - (1) For the personal information of children under the age of 14 that has been collected, in addition to complying with the provisions of this Policy on personal information protection, we also uphold the principles of justification and necessity, informed consent, clear purpose, security and legal use. We store, use and disclose such information by strictly following the Regulation on the Protection of Children's Personal Information Online and other laws and regulations. We will not store the information exceeding the period necessary to achieve the purpose of collection and use, and will delete or anonymize the personal information of children beyond the aforesaid time limit.
 - (2) Children or their guardians have the right to access and correct their personal information at any time, and can also submit correction and deletion requests to us. If you have any comments, suggestions, or complaints or want to report on matters regarding children's personal information, please contact us at any time. We are here to help you.

VII. Updates to This Policy and Notification

(I) Updates to this Policy

1. We may change this Privacy Policy from time to time. We will not reduce your rights under this Privacy Policy without your explicit consent. We will post any changes to this Privacy Policy on this page.
2. If the changes are significant, we'll provide a more prominent notice (including, for certain services, email notification of Privacy Policy changes).

Significant changes of this Privacy Policy include, without limitation:

- (1) Significant changes in our service model, such as the purpose of processing personal information, the type of personal information processed, the way of using personal information, etc.;
- (2) Significant changes in our ownership structure, organizational structure, etc., such as business adjustments, changes of owners due to bankruptcy and merger, etc.;
- (3) Changes in the main objects of personal information sharing, transfer or public disclosure;
- (4) Significant changes in your rights to participate in the processing of personal information and in ways you can exercise the rights;
- (5) Changes in our department responsible for handling personal information security, our contact information or complaint channels;
- (6) When the impact assessment report on personal information security indicates that there is a high risk.

We offer access to archived versions of this Policy for your review.

(II) Update notification

For any updates of this Policy, we will notify you through our app, mini program, or WeChat official account, or publish an announcement on our official website. In order for you to receive our notifications in a timely manner, it is recommended that you notify us in time when your contact information is changed. If you continue to use XX services after the updated Policy takes effect, it means that you have fully read, understood, and accepted the updated version and are willing to be bound by the updated Policy.

VIII. How to Contact Us

If you have any questions, comments or suggestions about this Policy, please contact us via email (iclass2024@sjtu.edu.cn). Under normal circumstances, we will reply within fifteen days (postponed in the event of national statutory holidays).

IX. Dispute Resolution

If you are dissatisfied with our reply, especially if our processing of personal information damages your legitimate rights and interests, you can also report to the Office of the Central Cyberspace Affairs Commission, the competent administration for industry and commerce, and other regulatory authorities. Among them, the official website of the Office of the Central Cyberspace Affairs Commission for reporting illegal and harmful information is: <https://www.12377.cn/>.

For any dispute arising out of or relating to this Privacy Policy and our processing of your personal information, either party may file it to the People's Court of Pudong New District, Shanghai City, where East Star Event Management Co., Ltd is registered.

We would like to remind you once again that you should read carefully this Policy, especially the bolded content. By clicking the "Register Now" button, you are deemed to have fully accepted this Policy. Please make sure that you have known and fully understood all content of this Policy before clicking.
